Challenging and rewarding opportunities are here....are you ready?

Entry level, unlicensed civil engineers build their professional knowledge through developing technical deliverables, attending meetings, and visiting project sites, as well as involvement with professional organizations. While working under the direct supervision of a more senior level engineer, you will:

- Learn the process of how engineering design works and become familiar with best practices on how to perform calculations and document your work
- Develop a knowledge of the rules and regulations that apply to a variety of projects
- Explore different types of projects and design challenges
- Work with CAD and design software
- Visit project sites during design and construction phases and actually see the projects we design get built
- Develop time management, organizational, effective communication, and team building skills
- Develop the skills needed to write reports and apply for permits from regulatory agencies
- Understand the materials, means, and methods contractors commonly use to build the infrastructures we design
- Learn how to identify tasks needed to complete an assignment
- Develop an understanding of how we collaborate with each other and our clients to improve

Our goal is to make you successful in work...and in life!

Keck & Wood provides a culture for you to thrive, instead of just collecting a paycheck. From team outings to company events, we provide opportunities for you to connect with others in the company on both a professional and personal level. Our flex schedule attitude helps you achieve a suitable work-life balance to grow your career, without having to give up your life to do it.

Supporting our competitive pay, our compensation packages can also include 401(k) contribution match, spot bonuses, performance-based incentive pay, and our Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP). Benefits can provide peace of mind to focus on your career, so our packages typically include medical, dental, vision, short and long-term disability insurance, paid holidays, paid time off for sick & vacation leave, paid time off for eligible volunteer service, and more.
